OK

ATRO prides ourselves on the engineering behind our parts. As temperatures under the hood increased with the installation of EGR/SCR systems the use of rubber and standard polyurethane mounts were failing.

Introducing the 11th proprietary formula to the ATRO line-up: High-Temp Red

Our high temperature polyurethane formula was designed and tested to withstand extreme heat under the hood. With a 300°F range, ATRO's high temp underhood product line will keep you up and running longer.

With ATRO behind you, drive forward.

The ATRO Warranty (<https://atrobushing.com/tech-docs/atro-tdocs-warranty>)

High Temps Don't Scare Us

Tested to 300 Degrees

No crumbling here. ATRO's high-temp formulation withstands the heat under the hood.

Available In Kits

ATRO's underhood solutions come in kits. No more ordering the nuts, bolts, washers, and every part in-between. One part, one kit. Simple.

- Creates a faster job
- Easier for the technician
- Provides Confidence in a COMPLETE repair

Longer Life = Increased Uptime

Polyurethane is impervious against oil, grease, brine, cleaning solvents, hydraulic fluid and diesel fuel allowing 3-5x longer life than it's rubber counterparts. Keeping you on the road longer.

All underhood products come with ATRO's industry leading warranty, 3-Years.
